she told me she thought one person she hung around with was a friend only because she didn’t want to go to parties alone in addition, individual government agencies need to become more aware of their impact on technological development and of the impact of technologies on society "in the future, you could, perhaps, measure estrogen to tell the likelihood of heart disease."

however, if you are so unhealthy that you cannot lead a normal life during ramadan then you should not be fasting anyway